LONDON, Dec. 4, 1872. The Stock Exchange report dated at eleven o'clock in the forenoon to-day as follows:—Money easier; the street rate is 5½ per cent, and the Bank of England rate is 5 per cent. STEAMSHIP WRECKED AND TWENTY-ONE LIVES LOST. The steamship Cresswell, from Palmyra for Cork, was lost during the voyage and twenty-one of the passengers and crew perished.

FIVE HUNDRED OF THE STOKERS EMPLOYED by the London gas companies, who are now on a strike, have been summoned to appear before a Police Court under the Masters' and Servants' act. The summonses issued against several of the strikers charge them with conspiracy. The associated companies show no disposition to concede the demand of the stokers, and the latter announce that they are determined not to resume work until their companies, whose discharge gave rise to the strike, are taken back to work.

MEANWHILE, THE WANT OF GAS is severely felt throughout London. Last night the city was in a state of partial darkness, and several of the theatres were compelled to omit their performances. There are no lights whatever in the underground railways.

LONDON, Dec. 4—6 P. M. Large portions of the city are in darkness to-night, the gas having been extinguished in many sections.

THE INHABITANTS are filled with consternation and dread, and the irritation against the striking stokers is very great.

AN AMERICAN LOVER IN A COURT OF LAW. Elizabeth Dredge brought suit to-day, in the Court of Queen's Bench, against Clinton Winans, a citizen of the United States, to recover $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage; but the case was compromised by Winans paying the plaintiff $7,500.

THE BOWLES BANK CASE. Mr. Robert Bowles was brought before the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House to-day and again remanded for further examination.

A meeting of the party of the Left was held to-day, at which, after a powerful speech by M. Gambetta in advocacy of the dissolution of the Assembly, measures to that end were absolutely insisted upon.

AMUSEMENTS.

Italian Opera. "Mignon" was given for the last time last evening before an audience somewhat larger than that which witnessed its first representation on Monday.

Madame Lucra in her rendering of the title rôle presented pretty much the same salient points that we have already referred to, the opening scene of the third act and the finale of the opera, being more dramatic and passionate in her second impersonation and the audience more appreciative and less frigid. The more one hears Lucra the greater the surprise felt at the extraordinary volume of tone displayed by her voice. In all its register, ordinarily, there is a palpable diminution of tone in regard to quantity, not quality, in the voice of a singer, but Madame Lucra seems to possess an equal amount of power throughout the entire range of her voice. Miss Kellogg's Filina will take rank with her Lucia and Annetta, and in the well known Polka she is rewarded by an overwhelming ovation. Vizzani, albeit lacking in the grace of manner and thoroughly artistic conception of the rôle that made Capoulli's Wilhelm Meister so popular, sang his more of expression than any one ever gave him credit for possessing, and Janet, the old harper, renewed his former success. On Friday the programme will consist of selections from "Linda," "Crispino," "Fra Diavolo" and "L'Africaine."

Musical and Theatrical Notes. A source of constant amusement to tourists in this country has been the placard "No Smoking," often seen in places of public resort. America is not alone in this, for in the Wilhelm Theatre, Magdeburg, a notice has been posted up to the effect that, to satisfy a portion of the public, smoking must be dispensed with once a week.

The "Black Crook" is to be the title of the Christmas piece at the London Alhambra, the libretto being founded on the famous "Babe in the Woods."

Mr. J. M. Bellows, who is said to be the best reader in England, is coming to this country.

Charles Bonville, formerly a poor actor and more recently a professor of declamation, is dead. For many years he read the papers aloud to the Reverend James Rothchild each morning. The Baron was often heard to say that his reader was the Talma of the faits divers, and that when the suicides were being read he was always afraid that his valet would cut his throat from enthusiasm.

A curious paper, the bill announcing the first representation of the "Flûte Enchantée" at Vienna was recently discovered in the archives of the Mozarteum at Salzburg.

"The School for Scandal" is to be produced at the Fifth Avenue Theatre on Monday evening, and the new French play, "The Baroness," on Tuesday evening. The two pieces will be played on alternate nights.

The Metronome, a Boston musical journal, speaking of Rubinstein's reception at that city, says:—"While New York, over whom we have always claimed superiority as a thoroughly classical city, has given the king of musicians twelve 'full boules' at Steinway Hall, which will hold almost, if not quite as many people as our Music Hall, Boston, the much more vaunted home of high art in America, has not vouchsafed him one audience, so far as we are able to learn, that in any way peculiarly or otherwise paid him for his efforts to intellectually entertain us. While we feast men from abroad, some of whom are not of more than ordinary ability in their respective professions, we neglect an artist who is the greatest of his age, and infinitely superior to them in point of genius and cultivation, and render him the most meagre encouragement and support."

THE PACIFIC COAST. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Dec. 4, 1872. It is rumored that the Pacific Mail Company has bought out the Webb Australian steamers.

There has been no further news of the Modoc Indian war.

VIRGINIA.

The Governor's Annual Message to the Legislature—A Peaceable Document—The Governor Disapproves of Aid from the National Government to Complete the James River and Kanawha Canal.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 4, 1872.

The Legislature met to-day, and after the reading of the Governor's message both Houses adjourned in respect to the death of Horace Greeley. Both the flags, State and national, flying from the Capitol were also lowered to half-mast in honor of the dead journalist.

The message of the Governor treats all the principal subjects usually embraced in such documents in a calm, fair and impartial manner, but it does not refer to national affairs, and lacks the vim and spirit of the message of a year ago, when Governor Walker was rather severe on the national administration. He does not even refer to the death of Mr. Greeley. Upon the financial condition of the State he reiterates his former recommendations, which were entirely in antagonism to the course subsequently pursued by the Legislature, in regard to the funding of the public debt. In the consideration of the educational interests of the State—a subject now receiving more attention than at any other period in its history—a promise is given that may be accepted as a confirmation of this statement. The interest manifested by the Governor in various subjects of learning, including the University of Virginia, the Virginia Institute and the recently organized Agricultural College, will have the effect of still further eliciting pure sympathy in the cause of education. It is flattering to report already that the progress made in this particular has exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine.

JAMES RIVER AND KANAWHA CANAL. That portion of the message in relation to the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal meets with general disapprobation, and has given rise to a great deal of adverse discussion and not a little feeling this evening, as this is the cherished enterprise and great national water route of Virginia. The Governor throws out water on the proposed manner of completing it by national aid, and makes the following statement and propositions, which I give in full:

"The government of the United States, in my judgment, will never undertake the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal. It might and it should, but it is not to be completed in any manner, but beyond this I am satisfied that it will not and really ought not to go. Let the owners of this property, the State of Virginia, take the title on all their interests to a company of responsible gentlemen of established reputation for probity and financial ability upon condition that the work be completed in a satisfactory manner within a specified period, and be thereafter used within certain prescribed limits as to tolls and general management, but not to contain no reasonable doubt that a company of gentlemen of the character can be found, and that the company will be completed in a satisfactory manner within a specified period, and be thereafter used within certain prescribed limits as to tolls and general management, but not to contain no reasonable doubt that a company of gentlemen of the character can be found, and that the company will be completed in a satisfactory manner within a specified period, and be thereafter used within certain prescribed limits as to tolls and general management, but not to contain no reasonable doubt that a company of
